

Australian App Development Privacy Policy

Effective date: 1 December 2024

Privacy Overview

Australian App Development Pty Ltd (AusAppDev) respects the privacy of our online visitors, and considers the responsible use of personal information to be of vital importance. We will not knowingly share any personal data with any Third Party other than our service providers. AusAppDev is committed to ensuring that to the best of our ability we meet all the requirements of the National Privacy Principles and the Privacy Act. To ensure our Privacy Policy remains current, AusAppDev periodically reviews its Privacy Policy and reserves the right, at its discretion, to modify or remove portions of this policy at any time.

We may use, in a general sense, personal information collected from you to create marketing insight, to identify consumer demand & to improve our services – without any reference to your name. Personal information such as name, address and email will only be collected when knowingly and voluntarily submitted.

We use cookies on our website. Those cookies are not strictly necessary for the provision of our website and services, we will ask you to consent to our use of cookies when you first visit our website.

We will not sell or otherwise share personally identifying information with other people except for those purposes as described above or unless required by law. However there are times when information will be collected, such as when you use our contact form, for billing purposes, appraisals or in connection with community postings such as message boards or feedback to us or to receive information from us.

Your Information

AusAppDev does not sell or rent personal information regarding our clients and their customers to any third party. The provision of your personal and or organization information regarding yourself and including any information on your clients and or customers will only be used for the purpose of providing to you and administering our products and services.

AusAppDev may use your personal information collected from you for the purpose of providing you with electronic newsletters & text message alerts. However, should you wish to remove your details from our mailing list – simply click 'unsubscribe' at the bottom of our email OR by replying STOP to our text alerts & your request will be activated as soon as possible.

No attempt will be made to identify users or their browsing activities except in the unlikely event of an investigation, where a law enforcement agency may exercise a warrant to inspect server logs. The statistics and log files may be preserved indefinitely and used at any time and in any way necessary to prevent security breaches and to ensure the integrity of the information supplied by AusAppDev

In general on AusAppDev websites, IP addresses (a number that is unique to the computer through which you are connected to the internet) are logged to track a user's session while the user remains anonymous. We analyse this data for certain trends and statistics, such as which parts of our site users are visiting and how long they spend there. In general, we do not link your IP addresses to anything personally identifiable to you. In those limited cases where session information is not anonymous, AusAppDev will provide notice of the practice and an opportunity to 'opt out.'

When AusAppDev receives information about your session or about you, we may also use it for research or to improve our site and the services we offer you.

Security

AusAppDev strives to ensure the security, integrity and privacy of personal information submitted to our sites, and periodically updates its security measures in light of current technologies. You need to be aware of inherent risks associated with the transmission of information via the Internet. AusAppDev cannot guarantee or warrant the security of any personal information you submit to our sites. If you have concerns in this regard, has other ways of obtaining and providing information. Normal mail, telephone and fax facilities are available.

AusAppDev's website may contain advertisements and links to other websites operated by third parties. These links are meant for your convenience only. We are not responsible for the privacy policies of these third party materials. Visitors to those sites should refer to their separate privacy policies and practices before disclosing personal information.
